Mission Statement

The Southern Section of AOAC International is an all-volunteer analytical science focused organization. At our Annual Conference we strive to provide scientists with affordable opportunities and to hear a variety of technical presentations. To fulfill this, we provide training and professional development (through technical workshops and short courses) and by providing a forum to keep our attendees abreast of the latest analytical and technical challenges and how to solve them.